Early Years Philosophy Statement

Early Years Philosophy, EY1 - 3

Early Years at PREM provides a caring, engaging, child-centered environment. The safe and inspiring natural setting provokes wonder and joy so as to support each child to explore and make sense of their world. A hands-on play-based approach is designed to foster the foundation of inquiry, language skills and nurture the development of each child's unique learning journey.

We believe in:

- parents as the first and lasting educators
- the wealth of knowledge, experiences and understandings that every child brings should be celebrated, challenged and extended
- promoting the language acquisition of every child in order to be confident learners and communicators
- empowering each young learner to become independent and critical thinkers who can work and play with others positively and collaboratively
- high expectations and equity
- reflective practice
