Towards a Revised Vision Statement:

Board-approved vision statement:

“Educating global citizens who strive for excellence, live sustainably, lead responsibly, celebrate diversity, and whose integrity champions a just and more peaceful world”

Definitions of key concepts

Global citizens:

- are internationally-minded and culturally-sensitive
- understand, respect, and embrace diversity and difference
- attempt to have a positive impact on the world around them
- are self-reliant and feel confident working and living in a global context

Strive for excellence reaffirms the School’s commitment not only to maintain high academic standards but also to help ensure that all students excel to the best of their abilities.

Live sustainably implies:

- caring for and helping to preserve the environment
- possessing the values and attitudes needed to guarantee a sustainable future, not only environmental but also economic, social, and cultural

Lead responsibly implies the ability to think critically (and to do so before acting), solve problems, and act with empathy and humility.

Celebrate diversity goes beyond mere tolerance of, and even respect for diversity and difference, and sees these as an opportunity for further learning, not as a problem to overcome.

Integrity indicates the quality of being honest and of always acting in a principled manner.

Just and more peaceful are self-explanatory – but “just” brings into the desired student outcomes a concern for fairness, non-discrimination, and human rights.
